Join us for a fun and informative oil painting class in my LaPorte Studio. Classes are a good introduction to painting for the beginner while taking the more advanced students to the next level. I work with your own individual style and creativity. Classes include painting from still lifes, photo reference and help with ongoing home studio paintings. The sessions run 4 times a year. You may sign up for a varied number of classes sessions. Sign up for back to back classes and you may leave all your gear overnight. First time artists to the Mackenzie Studio are invited to come 1-hour early to your first meeting for an orientation, discussion about equipment, earlier handouts and painting progression. Supply lists and directions will be sent to those needing them.
