

Cellar Studio

Winter 2010 ❁

Welcome to the Cellar Studio Newsletter. I hope to bring you little snippets of life and art from the country. I would love to hear from you. Tell me what you would like to see in these issues. Please feel free to email me dhutchin@ptd.net or comment on my blog <http://dianehutchinson.blogspot.com> Tell your friends, too!

Your Turn

Your input is important to me. I am comprising a list of all my patrons and friends and plan a give-away this spring. Would you please forward me your name, address, email address and the name of the painting(s) you may have purchased from me in the past? The give-away item will be shown on my blog and I will choose the winner from my list. I will not share this info with anyone. I have printed up many note cards and the like with my painting images on them and I would love to send them out. You can send this info to my email dhutchin@ptd.net Thank you

Provincetown Antiques

Just putting the finishing touches on this oil painting. It is a shop window from Cape Cod...

Winter Updates

Focus on Portraits

There has been so much happening here at the Cellar Studio. The holidays are winding down and now is the time for new beginnings. As one of my new beginnings I plan to focus more of my attention on portraiture. If you follow my blog, you already know about my portrait endeavor...

Ongoing Education

I continue to be inspired by my long-time teacher, Rose Mavis. Rose has been conducting painting classes for about three years and I continue to attend and learn from her. Recently, I've had the great fortune to begin receiving painting lessons from the well-known artist, Doug Wiltraut. Doug and his wife, Beth, have been long-time friends and now I have the honor of calling him friend and mentor...

Winter Scenes

Here are two oil paintings that I recently completed. These are both sold but I do plan to do MANY more snow scenes.

It's only December 31st and already we've been fortunate enough to have had three snowfalls! I must quote another artist who said, "Snow is God's gift to artists". I don't remember who said it, but how true! The world is transformed into a sparkling wonderland with multi-colored shadows and endless possibilities.
